ANK/321/2/07

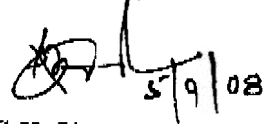

Dear Mr. Karakoç,

Indian Council of Cultural Relations (ICCR), the apex body in India for strengthening educational and cultural relations with other countries, has instituted 30 Fellowships to foreign writers and scholars, who wish to carry out research / consultations in India for a period of 3-12 months. Such scholars would be deputed as Scholars-in-Residence or Honorary Fellows at leading Universities, Institutions and Think Tanks in India (copy of universities and think tanks is enclosed herewith). This would enable the Fellows to interact with Indian scholars, writers and intellectuals, and to reactivate and expand the ambit of Indian studies and research. The nominated Fellows should have proven credentials as scholars, academics or writers, and a specialization or definitive interest in India any of the areas, viz, history, sociology, arts, music, philosophy, politics and economics.

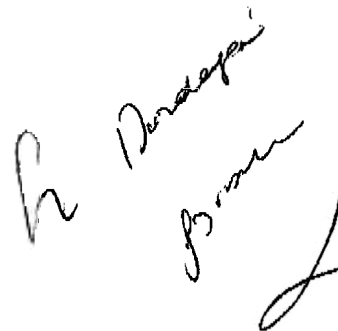

2. ICCR would provide the Fellows with return air-passage and a Fellowship Grant, which would be US $ 3000 per month, while the partnering universities / institutes / think tanks in India would provide residential and supporting facilities.
3. Nominations, if any, may be sent to this Embassy which will be forwarded to the ICCR. The last date for submission of nominations is 25 September, 2008.

Regards,

Yours sincerely,

 5/9/08
